Recipe Guidelines

- Give sizes of cans or packages in ounces
- Use standard measurements; do not abbreviate
- Spell out all words in ingredients and instructions
- Avoid using brand names if possible.
- If the recipe is in two or three parts, list all the ingredients for the first part, then ingredients for the second (and third) part. List the instructions for the first part, then the second part and so on - leaving a space in between to separate.
- Give hints or notes on preparing the recipe if necessary.
- If you have a "Food Memory" of the recipe you have submitted - a memorable holiday, conversation or special meal that was shared with family and friends that you would like to share with us, please write your "Food Memory" on a separate piece of paper. We ask that you recall the food, the setting and conversation that occurred.
